KINGSVILLE

Our Nimrods who left us a few weeks since, to hunt the fleet-footed deer, have returned, and are, every evening, the center of a group of eager listeners to their wonderful tales of hair breatth escapes. One party of five, of which Ben Blood was the only representative from this town, went to Michigan and harvested sixteen deer and one bear. Another purty of four-Bert Mitchell, Press Fickinger Fred Case and Geo. Smith, the first three from this town-went to the Pennsylvania forests, where the hunting was good but the game scarce, and killed ten deer. The highest individual scores were, Blood, five and Mitchell four deer.

Mr. A. Blakelce of Rock Island, 111., was the guest of Dr. E. M. Webster on last Sabbath.

Mrs. Albert Kent of Collinwood is visiting her father, Mr. S. Wright, and expects to remain during the winter months. Mr. Homer Blodgett, late clerk of the steamer Passate, is home for the winter. Prof. A. Howard expects to commence series of lessons in vocal music, at the town hall, on Wednesday evening of this week. Those who are acquainted with Andrew know that he has the ability, tact and experience to make the school pleasant and instructive. The M. E. mite society will meet this week on Friday evening, at their church, for the enjoyment of an syster supper. These meetings are always well attended.

Some of our enterprising business men are fitting up their show windows in good style for the holidays. F. Eastman, of the Star Clothing house, comes to the front in this respect with a nicely arranged window that would be hard to beat this side of Cleveland. In the same building Mr. F. Luce is putting in a large stock of brackets, of very pretty and difficult designs, which are munufactured by our townsman, Mr. H. Palmer. Inox Woon.

P. S. I have just been informed of a terrible affair at Comrade Grover's the other evening. Having returned from a drive, one evening after dark, and while opening his barn door his hand came in contact with something which was dangling therefrom, which made the blood run cold from his head to his feet-a pretty long run, but he says it is true. Before fainting away he ascertained that it was his three cats that he had left at home alive and well in the morning, and that had been assassinated by some unfeline monster in his absence. His first impression was that it was the greatest catamount or amount of cat that he had ever seen suspended, in that way, in the whole catalogue of his experience. It was certainly one the greatset entastrophes in the category of crimes, and affected G, so much that he recled to the house, scratched his head and pawsed to mews on the uncertainty of human life, ordered a dose of cathip ten, applied a sataplasm to his chest, retred and cought cathaps the remainder of the night. Truly it is a heart rending tail. How Woon,

The meetings at Ross's Corners, at present, will be held only two nights in the weeks, Wednesday, and Sanday nights. The church was filled last night many coming from Harpersheld and Genevas. The sources of petroleum are found in almost every part of the globe, and the one of the article would seem well night cover with civilization. There is a spring in one of the louisi Islands which has yielded petroleum more than two thousand years. The city of Genea was fermerly lighted by oil from the wells of Armenia, on the banks of the Zaro. In Persia, also, mear the Ceolain Sea, at Baku, numerous springs of petroleum have bega known from the earliest time; and those of Rangoon, on the liawaddy, are said to have yielded, before the general introduction of petroleum, some 400,000 hogsheads of oil a year.

A "proclamation" from Dr. Salvator Vincl, of Catania, announces that a great revolution in the physical sciences is at hand, for he will shortly demonstrate, by the most positive and incontestible evidence, the essence of heat, of light, of electricity, of magnetism, and of life, is —oxygen!

Recent dredgings by M. Laliet in the Sea of Galilee have shown that twelve species of fish are contained therein, of which the majority have the remorkable habit of hatching their eggs and shallering their young in their mouths.

Near Armsteg, on the line of the St. Gothard railway, excavations for the road have laid bare a so-called glanter garden, containing a series of "giants kettles," or large holes made in the rock by hydrantic or glacier.

Worth Remembering,

Worth Remembering.

Now that good times are again upon us before indulging in extravagant show it is worth remembering that no one can enjoy the pleasantest surgoundings if in bad health. There are hundreds of miserable people going about to-day with disordered stomach, fiver or kidneys, or a dry, hacking cough, and one foot in the grave, when a 50ct, bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic would do them more good than all the expensive doctors and quack mellicines they have ever tried. It always makes the blood pure and rich and will build you up and give you great health at pittle cost. Read of it in an other column.
